Our commitments to you are:

We protect your personal information

Keeping your personal information safe and secure is a priority. We use safeguards such as firewalls and encryption to help keep your personal information safe.

We do not sell your personal information

We sometimes share your information with other companies to provide the products and services you want. It will only be used for the specific purposes that we agree in advance, not for marketing, additional products or services.

We use your information to improve our products and services

We use personal information to continually improve our services and create better investment products to offer you.

In this Privacy Notice you can find out more about:

- What personal information we collect and use;
- How we collect, use and share personal information
- Your rights in relation to any personal information we hold about you; and
- How you can contact us with any questions you may have about information privacy.

We may amend this Privacy Notice from time to time to keep it up to date with current legal requirements, the way we operate our business or if we are advised to do so by our regulator. We will always inform you of any significant changes to the way we use your personal information when this deviates from information originally provided by us when the data was first collected.

Who we are

MIT Financial Consultants collects, uses and is responsible for certain personal data about you. When we do so we are required to comply with data protection regulation and we are responsible as a data controller of that personal data for the purposes of those laws.

How we keep your personal information secure

We consider security and the required technical and organisational measures required to comply with Article 5(1) of the UK GDPR meaning that it will ensure personal data is processed in a manner that ensures appropriate security of the personal data, including protection against unauthorised or unlawful processing and against accidental loss, destruction or damage, using appropriate technical or organisational measures.

The business has an extensive cyber and information security framework and associate policies that ensure the technical and organisational measures are always kept up to date. This includes that of our suppliers and their responsibilities as processors and sub-processors.

Retaining personal information on our systems

We will hold your personal data for differing periods of time depending upon the reason we have for processing it. These retention periods are set out below.

We will hold your personal data for differing periods of time depending upon the reason we have for processing it. The following criteria are used to determine data retention periods for your personal data:

- Retention in case of queries – Sesame will retain your personal data for as long as Sesame reasonably consider it necessary to deal with your queries (e.g. any questions you may have in relation to the services).

Transfer of your information out of the EEA

Sesame share your data with approved third parties and parties within the Sesame Bankhall Group to ensure that you receive the best possible service. Sesame do not sell or pass on your data for marketing purposes, it is only used for the service provision stated or for the marketing of new services within Sesame or its parent Sesame Bankhall Group, where there is a legitimate interest in giving you additional services or advise.

Where possible all Sesame data is stored within the EEA but may need to be accessed or stored in a country outside of the EEA that does not provide protections in line with GDPR. In these cases Sesame relies on the International Data Transfer Agreement (IDTA) to ensure adequate protections are in place in line with required legislation.

These controls are audited to ensure they are in place in lie with SBG policy and UK GDPR and in the majority of cases the processing activity is undertaken by an entity within the Sesame Bankhall Group and so is within direct control of Sesame and all policy and controls we give data in the EEA.

Your rights

Under UK GDPR, you have the following rights:

- Right to be Informed – You have the right to be informed about the collection and use of your personal data
- Right of Access – You have the right to access and receive a copy of your personal data and other supplementary information
- Right to Rectification – You have the right to have inaccurate personal data rectified, or completed if it is incomplete
- Right to Erasure – You have the right to have personal data erased
- Right to restrict processing – You have the right to restriction or suppression of your personal data
- Right to data portability – You can request a copy of data and/or to reuse this data for your own purposes across different services
- Rights relating to automated decision making including profiling – You have specific rights when automated decisions are made about you or you are profiled as part of a service. More information on this right can be sought through the group DPO.

To exercise these rights, contact us using the details provided at the beginning of this Data Privacy Notice.

We will respond within 1 calendar month unless the request is particularly complex and then an extension with a maximum time of 3 calendar months, may be requested. You will be informed of any extension or issues in resolving your request.

To access your personal information

You can ask us to confirm whether or not we have and are using your personal data. You can also ask to get a copy of your personal data from us and for information on how we process it.

To rectify or erase your personal information

You can ask that we rectify any information about you which is incorrect. We will be happy to rectify such information but would need to verify the accuracy of the information first.

You can ask that we erase your personal data if you think we no longer need to use it for the purpose we collected it from you.

You can also ask that we erase your personal data if you have either withdrawn your consent to us using your information (if we originally asked for your consent to use your information), or exercised your right to object to further legitimate use of your information, or where we have used it unlawfully or where we are subject to a legal obligation to erase your personal data.

We may not always be able to comply with your request, for example where we need to keep using your personal data in order to comply with our legal obligation or where we need to use your personal data to establish, exercise or defend legal claims.

To restrict or object to how we use your personal information

You can ask that we restrict our use of your personal data in certain circumstances, for example:

where you think the information is inaccurate and we need to verify it;

where our use of your personal data is not lawful but you do not want us to erase it;

where the information is no longer required for the purposes for which it was collected but we need it to establish, exercise or defend legal claims; or where you have objected to our use of your personal data but we still need to verify if we have overriding grounds to use it.

We can continue to use your personal data following a request for restriction where we have your consent to use it; or we need to use it to establish, exercise or defend legal claims, or we need to use it to protect the rights of another individual or a company.

To request a transfer of personal information

You can ask us to provide your personal data to you in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format, or you can ask to have it transferred directly to another data controller (e.g. another company).

You may only exercise this right where we use your personal data in order to perform a contract with you, or where we asked for your consent to use your personal data. This right does not apply to any personal data which we hold or process outside automated means.

To withdraw your consent

Subject to certain legal and contractual restrictions and reasonable notice, you may refuse or withdraw consent to the processing of your personal information at any time by contacting us (e.g. direct marketing or cookies). We will advise you if withdrawing your consent may affect our ability to respond to your needs.

Automated decision making and profiling

If we made a decision about you based solely by automated means (i.e. with no human intervention), and the decision made by us produces a legal effect concerning you, or significantly affects you, you may have the right to contest that decision, express your point of view and ask for a human review. These rights do not apply where we are authorised by law to make such decisions and have adopted suitable safeguards in our decision making processes to protect your rights and freedoms.

To obtain a copy of our safety measures for transfers outside of Europe

You can ask for a copy of, or reference to, the safeguards we have put in place when your personal data is transferred outside of the European Economic Area. We are not required to share details of these safeguards where sharing such details would affect our commercial position or create a security risk. [delete if no information is transferred outside of Europe]

Data anonymization and aggregation

Your personal data may be converted into statistical or aggregated data which can't be used to identify you, then used to produce statistical research and reports.

How to contact us

You can contact us for more information.

If you are not satisfied with the level of information provided in this privacy notice, you can ask us about what personal data we have about you, what we use your information for, who we disclose your information to, whether we transfer it abroad, how we protect it, how long we keep it for, what rights you have, how you can make a complaint, where we got your data from and whether we have carried out any automated decision making using your personal data.

If you would like to exercise any of the above rights, please:

email or write to [our Data Privacy Manager] at admin@mitfinancial.co.uk or write to MIT Financial Consultants, 43 South Parade, Mollison Way, Edgware, HA8 5QL.

let us have enough information to identify you, e.g. name, address, date of birth;

let us have proof of your identity and address (a copy of your driving licence or passport and a recent utility or credit card bill); and let us know the information to which your request relates.

The supervisory authority

We ask that you please attempt to resolve any issues with us before reporting to the ICO

If you are not happy with the way we deal with any complaints or have any further concerns or complaints, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the UK's data protection regulator, the Information Commissioners Office (ICO), who can be contacted through their website at <https://ico.org.uk/global/contact-us> or by writing to:
